"LET US HELP YOU TO HEALTH."
Chas. W. Loomis Wants Every Catarrh Sufferer to Use Hyomei and Be Cured.
Statistics show that at least 97 out of every 100 persons in this state suffer from catarrh in some form.
While the disease is one of the most common, it is also one of the most dangerous and offensive, leading to consumption and other diseases of the respiratory organs.
Prior to the discovery of Hyomei and its introduction in this section by Chas. W. Loomis, every method of treatment had been found worthless.
The discovery of Hyomei and its growing popularity has already reduced the percentage of those suffering from catarrh. This wonderful remedy is the simplest and most pleasant of treatments. Put 20 drops of Hyomei in the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and breathe it for a few minutes four times a day. Relief will be seen after the first treatment and a complete cure will soon follow. Breathe the Hyomei in this way, and the catarrhal germs even in the most remote air cells are destroyed. The irritated mucous membrane is soothed and healed, and perfect health restored.
Chas. W. Loomis says to all catarrh sufferers, "Let me help you to health. I am confident that Hyomei will cure, so confident, in fact, that I guarantee to refund your money if it fails. A complete outfit costs but $1, and if it does not help you, your money will be returned promptly."
With Good Road Builders.
President W. H. Moore of the National Good Roads association, expects 3,000 delegates to attend the national convention in St. Louis in May.
A horse can pull 6,270 pounds on a level macadamized road and it takes five horses to pull the same load on an ordinary dirt road, and ten horses to pull the load in loose sand or mud.
Every county in Illinois will be represented at the good roads convention to be held in Springfield May 3 and 4.
New York state moves 12 million tons of farm products over country roads every year. The failure of the state to provide good roads has caused a good shrinkage in farm values during the past ten years of 70 million dollars and New York has fallen to the third rank in the Union.
Massachusetts has shown an increase of $5 million dollars in farm values during the past ten years, and it is attributed mainly to good roads.
The Chicago Automobile club has organized a camera club to travel throughout the country around the city and take pictures of the bad roads this spring.
The farms of Vermont are asking 15 million dollars for good roads next year.
New York will establish a state plant to be operated by convict labor at Sing Sing to crush stone for use in constructing good roads.

Market Letter.
Kansas City, Mo., Wednesday, May 4, 1904. At the close of last week the cattle market was not much changed from the close of the previous week, having lost the gains of the first two days of the week. The stuff and steers and feeders were possibly a shade higher. Prices this week have been barely steady with Friday's close, and trade has been quiet. Top steers brought $5.35, within a nickel of best price previous Tuesday, but the steers yesterday were better, and among the best seen here since the holidays. She stuff has sold steady, except that halfers were weak to 5 cents lower yesterday, which loss has been regained today. Best heifers today brought $4.75. Heavy cows bring $3.75 to $4.40 for good choice ones. Supply of stockers and feeders has been light, demand has also been light, but more than enough to take care of the supply; prices today are strong, and prices range from $3.75 to $4.70. Some reduction in price of dressed carcasses took effect late last week in both domestic and foreign markets, but same has not been felt in price of live animals this week, except a quietness has prevailed; the light supply served to hold up prices and encourages the fall in somewhat higher prices during the month of May than have ruled recently.
Hog supply last week at 53,000 head was the largest of the season, and prices lost some, with further loss of 10 cents this week so far. Market is steady to strong today with $5.75 as top, bulk of sales at $4.50 to $4.70. Quality is good, but weights are lower than usual, as a good many hogs are coming from Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Conservative opinion favors a further moderate drop in prices, though the $4.50 mark is not expected to be passed for best hogs.
Gus Oberheim, of Napoleon, Mo., brought in the 29th, a carload of hogs. Joel Leskey of Lafayette county, Mo., was here the 29th with one car of hogs.
Fred Rogge, of Wallington, Mo., owner of a large farm, was on the market the 28th with two car loads of fed steers and a car load of hogs, all of his own raising.
J. I. Ritter of Odessa, Mo., was at the yards the 26th with a shipment of mixed stock.

Preserving Eggs.
St. Louis Republic:
To preserve eggs in the summer when they are plentiful and low in price and keep them until a time when they are scarce and high priced is a laudable desire.
To undertake to sell eggs thus preserved as fresh ones is deception and we do not advise anyone to undertake the practice.
We have an inquiry from a subscriber living at Laoni, Ill., who ask for a recipe for preserving eggs.
Various methods have been devised and many have been abandoned on account of lack of merit.
The most feasible and successful plan has been found that of preserving in what is known in commerce as "water glass." It is a silicate of soda that has become so much sought after that almost all druggists keep it on hand.
One pound of commercial "water glass" can be bought for 25 cents. This substance diluted with nine times its bulk in cold water forms the material. As fast as the eggs are gathered they are put into the preservative. The fresher the eggs the better they will be when taken from the preservative.
A correspondent writes us that he tried this plan and he put in fourteen dozen of eggs when they were selling at 12 cents a dozen.
The eggs were put in the last of April and in December he took them out when the selling price of eggs was about 36 cents per dozen.
He reported every egg perfect, but of course he meant that they were scarcely different from the taste of perfectly fresh ones.
That the solution may again be used it will be necessary to bring it to a boiling point and it is again ready for use.
The Bible Society Centennial.
The British and Foreign Bible Society was founded March 7, 1804. Its centennial anniversary was commemorated generally in the United States and Great Britain, March 6, 1904, called "Bible Sunday," or "Bible Day." The American Bible Society, an offshoot of the other, was established in 1816. The two have worked together and part of the world for the purpose of "placing the Bible, without note or comment, in the hand of every human being." Great as has been their activity, and numerous as are the translations of the Bible in foreign languages the Bible Societies are still very far from reaching this pious aim. The British Society has distributed 180,000,000 Bibles and Testaments; the American Society, 72,000,000. For some reason contributions to the latter have greatly fallen off in the last year.—With the Procession, Everybody's Magazine for May.
